

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

The Department of History offers a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree in History. Students majoring in History and interested in teaching certification may also select a concentration in Social Studies. The department also offers minors in American Studies and History.

Signature Experiences

As part of the College of Liberal and Fine Arts Signature Experience, which seeks to offer students opportunities to apply ideas and knowledge in real-world settings, the Department encourages students to enroll in mentorship courses such as internship, Study Away, or Study Abroad. Majors may apply 3 or 6 semester credit hours of internship study to their baccalaureate program. Internships entail supervised workplace experience, allowing the integration of academic and practitioner learning. The faculty member serving as Undergraduate Advisor of Record of the Department of History oversees placement. Department faculty members provide supervision and grade internship performance.

Department Honors

Students whose grade point average in the History major before the beginning of their final year at UTSA is 3.5 or above, and whose overall grade point average is 3.2, may earn Department Honors. To do so, students must enroll in 3 hours of the honors thesis course (HIS 4993) and must complete a substantial original research project approved by a Department Honors Committee consisting of a faculty supervisor and two other faculty members. Students must maintain a 3.5 grade point average in the major to be eligible for the award. Students who enroll in an Honors Thesis course (HIS 4993) and complete this work satisfactorily do not need to enroll in HIS 4973 Seminar in History.

- Concentration in Social Studies (p. 3)

Bachelor of Arts Degree in History

The degree program in History combines the development of informed perspectives, cultivation of analytical skills, and mastery of content areas that cover the United States and different regions in the world. A major in History teaches a student to write effectively and expressively, to think critically, to analyze arguments, and to communicate ideas. These skills will all aid in the pursuit of a career in a variety of fields.

The minimum number of semester credit hours required for this degree, including the Core Curriculum requirements, is 120. Thirty-nine of the total semester credit hours required for the degree must be at the upper-division level.

All candidates for this degree must fulfill the Core Curriculum requirements and the degree requirements, which are listed below.

Students seeking the B.A. degree in History (students pursuing the Concentration in Social Studies are exempt from completing this requirement) must complete the COLFA Second Language Experience. General requirements are listed on the College of Liberal and Fine Arts (<http://catalog.utsa.edu/undergraduate/liberalfinearts/>) page of this Undergraduate Catalog. B.A. in History students may also fulfill the requirement by:

- Completing the first two semesters of a second language or equivalent plus Advanced-level Reading Knowledge of a second language or demonstrating Intermediate-level Reading Knowledge of two second languages.

Core Curriculum Requirements (42 semester credit hours)

Students seeking the Bachelor of Arts degree in History must fulfill University Core Curriculum requirements in the same manner as other students. The courses listed below satisfy both degree requirements and Core Curriculum requirements; however, if these courses are taken to satisfy both requirements, then students may need to take additional courses in order to meet the minimum number of semester credit hours required for this degree.

Courses taken to satisfy the core requirement in American History may not be used to satisfy degree requirements. One of the following courses should be used to satisfy the core requirement in Language, Philosophy and Culture (one of these courses may also be used to satisfy the Component Area Option core requirement):

HIS 3963. Women and Gender in India. (3-0) 3 Credit Hours.

This course examines the history of women in the Indian subcontinent from colonial times under British rule to modern independent India. Topics to be discussed and studied include the dowry system, colonial reform movements, education for women, special challenges for Muslim, Christian, and low-caste women, and the nationalist struggle for independence. Course Fees: LRLF $10.27; STLF $18.48; DL01 $75.

HIS 3973. Muslim South Asia: India, Pakistan, Bangladesh. (3-0) 3 Credit Hours.

This course addresses the development and rise of Muslim nationalism in the Indian subcontinent. Under British colonial rule, Muslims in South Asia began to emerge as a political community, ultimately demanding self-rule under the sovereignty of Pakistan. After a chaotic Partition with India in 1947, Pakistan struggled to achieve cohesion across lines of region, language, and ethnicity. A civil war in 1971 led to the formation of the independent nation of Bangladesh. The class may consider topics of history, culture, gender, class, religion, and economic development for Muslims in South Asia, along with issues of contemporary interest in the region. Course Fees: LRLF $10.27; STLF $18.48.

HIS 3983. Women and Gender in Latin America. (3-0) 3 Credit Hours.

This course examines the role of gender in Latin American history, particularly with respect to the lives of ordinary women. Topics that may be discussed include exploring the changing roles of women over time to see how colonialism and imperialism, the rise of capitalism, and the existence of race/ethnicity and class hierarchies impacted women's social, economic and political roles. Regional and topical themes may vary. Throughout the course, we will be sensitive to how gender norms informed the ways women and men exercised power as well as the forces that constrained them from using power. Course Fees: LRLF $10.27; STLF $18.48.

HIS 3993. Slavery and its Legacy in the Digital Age. (3-0) 3 Credit Hours.

The topic of slavery and its legacy continues to connect the past to the present and stimulate historical debates. This course covers a variety of essential components, including ancient slavery, modern slavery, the Atlantic Slave Trade, slavery in the United States, and digital resources for understanding slavery. Recent public debates around race, social inequalities, and access to political power are often framed as an aftereffect of slavery within modern global culture. Students will become familiar with online and archival resources for exploring the history of slavery and its legacies in contemporary culture. Course fees: LRLF $10.27; STLF $18.48.

HIS 4013. Old Regime and the French Revolution. (3-0) 3 Credit Hours.

This course will introduce students to the major events of the French Revolution, from its origins in the Old Regime through the Napoleonic Era. It will examine some of the topics of ongoing interest and debate that continue to shape the field, including its causes and radicalization. Students will also gain an understanding of the revolution's place in history and its enduring influence in the modern world. Course Fees: LRLF $10.27; STLF $18.48.

HIS 4023. African History. (3-0) 3 Credit Hours.

This course explores key developments in African history, including the rise of empires and kingdoms and the incorporation of Africa into the modern world system. Through lectures, readings, and discussions, we will look at the political, social, and cultural history of Africa, exploring some major historical processes and events that shaped and continue to reshape the continent and lend themselves to discussions and inquiry. May be repeated for credit when topics vary.

HIS 4033. Ancient History. (3-0) 3 Credit Hours.

This course examines the scope, variety, and gradual growth of cultural creativity from the time periods of the Neolithic Revolutions (9000 BCE) to the post-classical periods (750CE). The course focuses on forms of interaction and interdependence among agrarian, pastoral nomadic, and hunter-gatherer societies, as well as civilizations, bridge cultures, buffer zones, and regions. Topics to be examined may include the question of whether cultural complexity inevitably leads to state power, social inequality, and patriarchy; common patterns in the causes of cultural prosperity, decline, and collapse; and modern claims about the inheritance of a cultural 'legacy' from the past.

HIS 4133. History and the Public. (3-0) 3 Credit Hours.

Investigation of the status, uses, and value of history in schools and universities, and in other spheres of life. Special interests include public and private roles of scholars and intellectuals, forms of public history, literary and cinematic uses of history, public policy applications, history as social and cultural criticism, and alternative conceptions of history and historians' work. Course Fees: LRLF $10.27; STLF $18.48.

HIS 4143. History Standards and Their Public Reception. (3-0) 3 Credit Hours.

This course is intended especially for majors pursuing certification to teach history in the public schools. Topics may include examining the continuing debate about the articulation of standards for the United States, World, and Texas History instruction at the middle and high school levels. The course offers students the opportunity to review the range of specific skills and understandings professional historians have tried to promote in history education. The class further emphasizes current state requirements in the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills for social studies disciplines and examines how various agency expectations and standards have evolved over time. The course also helps prepare students for the Social Studies Composite Certification Exam. Course Fee: LRLF $10.27; STLF $18.48.
